THE ADVENTURE BEGINS!

HOYA HOYA SPIRIT NATION!

Welcome dads and daughters to the beginning of our 2016–2017 camping season. Spirit Nation campouts are cherished memories shared by our “dads and daughters” community. This season we will celebrate the lifelong, father-daughter bond that this unique and rewarding experience encourages.

Spirit Nation’s sense of community creates a comfortable space for tribe and nation fellowship. You and your daughters are likely to develop friendships and lasting memories with tribe-mates and campers throughout the Spirit Nation. Our spirit of camaraderie and cooperation is central to this year’s theme:

Six Tribes; One Nation; Spirit Nation!

Through camping with Spirit Nation, our Princesses learn to explore the natural beauty of our local environment with wonder and purpose. They’ll be captivated by the tall trees of Idyllwild and Julian, and marvel at the giant boulders of Joshua Tree. Your girls’ confidence will grow on the zip-lines at Indian Hills; climbing the tower at Camp Marston, and running with Marines on the beaches of Camp Pendleton. Adventure awaits!

We know you will always be grateful for the time invested on these campouts, and for the space created to promote that essential bond between a Princess and her dad.

We are honored to serve you, the Spirit Nation, as the 2016–2017 Chief and MedMan.
